

Telemarketers are finding loop holes in the Do-Not-Call laws.

RECORDED MESSAGES make Do-Not-Call list irrelevant.

Nearly 80% of the telemarketing calls I now get are recorded messages that don't give me the opportunity to talk to a human and ask to be removed from the list, or even identify who is calling. If I can't find out who is calling, how can I report them? And how can the FCC stop them, or prosecute them?

FAX VOLUME has more than doubled in two months.

Telemarketing has also shifted to my fax machine, meaning that I have to pay for the paper and ink, and potentially interfering with legitimate faxes, thus causing me to lose business.
